The original copy shall be authenticated by the signatures of the Chairman of the Club from time to time and shall be held by the Secretary. Every officer and member shall be provided with a true copy.

Standing Orders for the Regulating of Business and Proceedings

1. The convening of all formal meetings shall be in accordance with the Constitution from time to time governing the affairs of the Club.

2. In all matters pertaining to the conduct of the Club, the Constitution shall be deemed to be the final authority and these Standing Orders shall be interpreted only as supplementary thereto.

3. Minutes of all meetings shall be kept by the Secretary. Minutes of all General Meetings shall be circulated to all members within 4 calendar months of the meeting.

4. In all addresses to meetings of the Club the following rules of debate shall be followed:

a) All motions to be proposed and seconded.

b) All speakers to stand if possible and address the Chairman.

c) Except where the time limits are extended at the wish of the meeting all speeches should be governed by the Chairman.

d) No second speech to be allowed on the same question, unless by way of an explanation, and no new topic or matter may be introduced therein at the discretion of the Chairman.

e) No irregular or improper conduct may be permitted in any speech. The Chairman has the power to rule thereon, and in such matters the Chairman's word is final.

If in the Chairman's opinion a procedural motion is being used to prevent fair and reasonable discussion, they may refuse to accept such a motion on those grounds. All motions duly proposed and seconded shall be put to the meeting and may be decided by a simple majority, except as otherwise provided by the Constitution. Once decided no further discussion shall be allowed on that motion.

5. The Chairman may call, or any member may propose, that any motion or any meeting may be adjourned, and such adjournment shall be to such time and place as the Chairman or the Club in general meeting shall direct. At an adjourned meeting only, unfinished business may be transacted.

6. In all matters of discussion and debate the conduct and control of meetings is in the hands of the Chairman of the meeting. In all matters pertaining to the conduct of the Club the decision of the Chairman shall be final. The duty of the Chairman is to be discreet, impartial and tactful and the following rules should be observed:

a) Every member who desires should, where practicable, have an opportunity of speaking once.

- b) Members shall speak only in order determined by the Chairman.
- c) The Chairman shall ensure a balanced debate, where possible allowing supporters and opponents of any given motion equal opportunity and paying due heed to the rights of minorities.
- d) The Chairman shall restrain all undue and unseemly interruptions, and such interruptions as are allowed shall be restricted to points of order.
- e) All points of order should be brief, to the point, must not introduce new topics and should not be subject to debate. On all points of order, the decision of the Chairman is final and binding.
- f) All discussion must be relevant and pertinent and couched in proper language. Contravention of or permanent disregard for this rule will result in a request to retire from the meeting, and if necessary subsequent removal there from.

7. Amendments can be moved without notice provided they are relevant and not in contravention of the notice or the intent of the meeting. All amendments should be dealt with separately and in logical order. Motions which are amended should be put to the meeting without being again proposed or seconded. All amendments when put to the meeting should be duly seconded. The rules pertaining to amendments are as follows: -

- a) Must not be merely negative.
- b) Must be in accordance with the notice of the meeting.
- c) Must be moved or seconded by a member who has not already spoken on the motion.
- d) Must not be moved after the question is put.
- e) Gives no right of reply to the mover.
- f) Cannot be withdrawn without the meeting's consent.
- g) In the event of an equality of votes an amendment will be deemed to be lost.
- h) No member may move more than one amendment to any one motion.
- i) Only one amendment should be before the meeting at any one time: no amendment shall be allowed to an amendment - one must be decided before the next is put.

8. All voting on all matters shall be in accordance with the Constitution from time to time in force.

9. The Chairman shall ensure that the agenda of the meeting as circulated shall be adhered to unless altered with the consent of the meeting.

10. In the event of an equality of votes on any subject the Chairman shall have a casting vote exercisable at his discretion. If he declines to vote the motion shall be deemed to be lost.

11. In the interpretation of these standing orders, and in the conduct of all meetings save where expressly and explicitly provided to the contrary, the ruling of the Chairman shall be final and legal and binding on all members and on all interested parties thereto.
